Last Drop Brewery Bohemian Pilsner 4.8% Alc./Vol.

A straw coloured Czech style lager. It has been brewed from the local pale and European specialty malts, Czech Saaz noble hops and the original lager fermenting yeast. Fermented in open vessels under cold conditions, then matured under even more extreme cold for 6 weeks. This beer is a true example of the traditional brewing claimed by many, but achieved only by few. Our aim was to create a lager with a perfect balance between maltiness and bitterness, making it an easy drinking beer. Feel the hints of bread like flavours, grassy, floral aroma and the tinkling sensation of natural carbonation. Enjoy unfiltered.

Last Drop Brewery Light 3.5% Alc./Vol.

Although light beers are considered insignificant by many, we, brewers at Last Drop Brewery, pay special attention to this type of beer. We have blended several types of Australian and European specialty malts with three varieties of hops while employing a special brewing regime creating highly flavoured light beer. The result is an amber coloured beer with low to medium complexity, remarkable body and a touch of caramel flavour. Higher maturation time at subzero temperatures allowed to mellow down the initial high degree of bitterness. Carbonation is at medium level.

Last Drop Brewery Wheat – Hefeweizen 4.8% Alc./Vol.

So different from other beer styles, this beer offers a gateway to the beer world for many punters married to the wine beverage. It was brewed with authentic Bavarian yeast, loads of wheat malt and German Hallertauer hops. This beer was allowed to ferment at higher temperatures, followed by 4 weeks of maturation. It has a pronounced fruity, banana like flavours with vanilla and clove bouquet and very low bitterness. Light tartness makes this beer very refreshing and thirst quenching. This beer has an extremely hazy appearance due to a high amount of yeast and protein that was intentionally left in this brew. Carbonation level is medium to high.

Last Drop Brewery Bock 4.5% Alc./Vol.

We have carefully selected a number of Australian and European specialty malts, German Northern Brewer and Czech Saaz hops to create this unmistakable dark lager. This beer is great for winter months, however, it is appreciated by many regular punters all year around. Think of a delicate chocolate, an aroma of coffee and hints of caramel followed by an intriguing bitterness and pursued by the unexpected dryness. Flavour is very complex, but offers a quest for repeated experience. This dark lager was allowed to mature for a period of 4 weeks in subzero temperatures and is enriched by nitrogen. Some natural carbonation has been retained in the beer.

Special Brew

The size of our brewery allows us to handcraft the world's most interesting ales and lagers. Ask our staff for what's in the barrel.
